

Research Article Published Date: 05/18/2018

Maternal and fetal outcome of comparative study between old and adopted new value of screening of Gestational Diabetes Mellitus in tertiary centre in Saudi Arabia

<h2>Abstract</h2>
Objectives: To check if there is any significant difference in the immediate outcome of pregnancy with diabetes using the new values of FBS & 2hrs post prandial with 75g OGTT for 1 year (from 1st June 2013-31st May 2014) ...

Case Report Published Date: 04/19/2018

The Case of the Phantom Trophoblastic Tumor

<h2>Summary</h2>
This report provides an insight into a very unusual problem in the First trimester of pregnancy, and describes the unfolding of a series of potential blunders.
We all know that most problems in gynecologic oncology become terribly magnif...

Research Article Published Date: 04/04/2018

Screening of Gestational diabetes mellitus

<h2>Abstract</h2>
Gestational diabetes mellitus is becoming a very common medical disorder associated with pregnancy especially so in the Middle East and more so in Saudi Arabia, thus putting the women and fetuses at an increased risk of maternal and neonatal morbidity and mo...

Review Article Published Date: 03/22/2018

Is It Possible to End Female Circumcision in Africa?

<h2>Abstract</h2>
Female genital mutilation / cutting remains a widespread practice throughout Africa. There has been a worldwide effort to do away with FMG/C, but tensions exist between those who aim to abolish FGM/C and those who desire to perpetuate the tradition. While ma...

Review Article Published Date: 03/14/2018

TMD and pregnancy?

<h2>Abstract</h2>
Pregnancy is a happy stage in life of every woman, but at the same time it is a rather difficult period, since pregnancy represents a serious strain on the body. In the body of a woman during this period there are significant physiological changes that ensur...